(c) In the event a city government or an officially recognized community organization representing an unincorporated community or an organized service group wishes to sponsor a community or area-wide clean-up program, the Director of the Department of Public Works, or his or her authorized representative, may waive dumping fees for disposal of materials collected during the cleanup and may specify a period during which the fee waiver will apply. Fee waivers are limited to one per year per community or area. The Manager of the Waste Management Division shall determine reasonable written certification requirements. Such requirements may be revised from time to time to reflect program experience, to increase waste reduction effectiveness or for other appropriate reasons.

Wastehaulers who are denied certification or whose certification is terminated may appeal such decisions to the Director of the Department of Public Works. The appeal shall be submitted in writing and shall state the grounds for the appeal. The Director's decision on the appeal shall be final.
