

Let's Re-Energize Repair!

Over the years, while reuse options have expanded, it seems repair shops have been quietly fading into the background. Even the repair shops will tell you that it usually costs more to repair than buying new.

This guide is for those who believe spending a bit more with local repair businesses is far better than spending money on more distant and more wasteful manufacture of more products.

Master Recyclers have compiled this list of who is available to provide repair services. By promoting this form of reuse, we hope the whole community will join us in creating a healthy local economy that can begin to repair our wasteful ways.

Please keep in mind: The people listed inside have been contacted to confirm they want to be listed. However no effort was made to confirm or guarantee certifications, licenses, insurances etc. It is your responsibility to protect yourself in transactions with private entities. Lane County makes no guarantee or confirmation of quality or dependability.

Do-It-Yourself!

Quite often, the reason we feel we must dispose of a working tool or appliance is merely the need for a replacement part. Parts for grinders, graters, food processors and more can easily be found with a quick web search or phone call to the dealer—take the time to save money and prevent waste.

Here is a short list of websites for repair how-tos and parts dealers that may assist the potential do-it-yourselfer or even the small repair business.

www.fixmyblinds.com

offering re-stringing kits and replacement parts for window blinds

www.discountblindparts.com

all parts related to window blinds and drapery and shades

www.repairclinic.com

offering parts listings and repair advice for most major appliance brands

www.ereplacementparts.com replacement parts for power tools, repair forum, articles etc.

www.fitnessrepairparts.com

parts to repair your treadmill or bowflex

www.ifixit.com

free repair manual that you can edit

This guide to repair and reuse in Lane County is a work in progress.

Suggestions and corrections should be sent to the contact info on front panel or to the Waste Reduction Specialist, Lane County Public Works, Waste Management Division, 541-682-4339.

And, to keep fully up-to-date, check out the Repair2Reuse website periodically. Read and post comments on the discussion board and see new repair services that have been discovered.

This printed guide will be updated only once per year to reduce paper waste.

ReUse is Going Strong in Lane County...

Every corner of Lane County has well-used and well-loved thrift stores, and we all know that shopping first at second hand shops or garage sales always saves money and always helps the environment. Exception: buying a new appliance (refrigerators, washers, etc) is usually better than reused because of the better energy and water conservation new technology achieves.

In fact, reuse is so popular that local reuse centers are overflowing with quality goods. Lane County Waste Management gets frequent calls about what to do with perfectly good items that the reuse centers have turned down.

If your offer to donate or drop off is refused, try these ideas:

- List it for free on internet bulletin boards (craigslist.com, freecycle.org, Yahoo group—Eugene FreeRecycle, etc.)
- Place a note on community bulletin boards such as the one maintained by Sundance
- Announce to friends, meetings, and other community groups you are involved in
- In fair weather, of course, setting items in the driveway with a free sign often works

And don't forget... Shop first at second hand shops—It's good for your wallet, the earth, and the local economy.
