A NOTE ABOUT CORRECTIONS DATA

Items to consider when reviewing corrections data:

- Small changes in raw numbers between years may create large percentages. For example, a change from 7 to 3 creates a change of 57%. Review of both the raw numbers and percentages to determine the significance of these changes. Youth Services' reports include both measures, when available.
- Data in this report represents crimes that have a corresponding referral to the Lane County Department of Youth Services (Youth Services) which is the juvenile justice provider for the county. If a juvenile crime occurred that was not reported, or law enforcement did not create a referral regarding the crime, it is not included in these data. For example, it has been suggested that the number of "tobacco" referrals for juveniles is much lower than "what people know is occurring in their community." Data in this report represent only juveniles who have been referred for that offense.
- Reported juvenile crime data have benefits and limitations.

Benefits include:

- Determines juvenile crime trend over years
- Describes the proportion of different types of crimes, e.g., person versus property offenses or criminal versus non-criminal, etc.
- Compares county to statewide data

Limitations include:

- As stated above, data are based on reported crime. Interpreting these data out of the context of "victimization data" can be very misleading. For example, a reduction in reported crime is interpreted to mean "less juvenile crime" committed in the community and increases in these data are interpreted as a bad thing because they represent "more juvenile crime." These interpretations may be correct, however, there is no way to definitively confirm these assumptions without a victimization rate for the community. Without that rate, we do not know the extent to which reported crime reflects absolute crimes committed in the community.
- Referral data are a weak representation of the impact of the corrections system for several reasons including a) they are influenced by local reporting practices, b) they are influenced by the number of law enforcement officials, and c) the majority of juvenile offenders each year are first time offenders. Recidivism measurements (re-offending behavior) are less vulnerable to these external influences and serve as a stronger measurement of system and program impact. Youth Services has produced a comprehensive review of these data which can be found on its web page.

REPORT DESCRIPTION

Background - The Lane County Department of Youth Services (Youth Services) is the juvenile justice provider for Lane County, Oregon. Historically, Youth Services has published an annual report that included:

- A departmental overview
- An overview of the philosophy of corrections and treatment interventions for juvenile offenders
- A description of juvenile justice
- Trend data on juvenile crime
- Budget totals (county tax dollars and grant funds)
- A summary data on recidivism (re-offense) trends.
- A literature summary of best practices

While it is important to report on each of these areas, the information on each topic has increased to the point that it is no longer feasible to put it all in one document. Instead, Youth Services will produce separate reports per topic in addition to other research information. These separate documents allow for more detailed information on each topic and more clearly respond to users' specific areas of interest

Report Purpose - This report includes data related to the reported juvenile crime in Lane County. It includes both single year data and trend information. These data are provided by totals, gender, age, race and ethnicity. All data are maintained on the statewide Juvenile Justice Information System (JJIS).

Definitions - This report is divided by counts of individual youth, their referrals and allegations, definitions include:

Data Type	Description	Example	How Reported
1. Youth	1. Individual juvenile offenders referred to Youth Services. Each youth is only counted once per year.	John Smith is an individual juvenile.	Youth = 1
2. Referrals	2. Reports (usually a police report) that contain incidents of criminal or status offenses committed by juveniles. An individual youth can have several referrals.	On January 15, 2006, the police sent a referral on John Smith to Youth Services. The referral included the following allegations: Theft 1 and Criminal Trespassing.	Referrals = 2
3. Allegations	3. Includes the type and number of crimes listed on the referral. A referral can have several allegations.	On March 20th, 2006, the police sent a referral on John Smith to Youth Services with the following allegations -Theft 3, Criminal Mischief 2 and Arson 2.	Allegations = 5

There has been a steady decrease of youth with criminal offenses since 2001. Data include:

- Youth with criminal offenses decreased 14.4% (1,664 to 1,425)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with person crimes decreased 28.8% (333 to 237)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with property crimes decreased 12.5% (1,011 to 885)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with other/behavioral crimes decreased 5.3% (320 to 303)

- Youth with non-criminal offenses decreased 20.3% (699 to 557)

Both Lane County and the state experienced a decrease in the rate at which youth were referred to juvenile departments. A comparison between Lane County rates and statewide rates for 2001-2006 includes:

- Rates are based on youth referred to juvenile departments per 1,000 youth in the general population (0-17 age group). Analyzing per capita (rate) data removes the effect of a changing population and simplifies trend comparisons and comparison between groups.

- Youth referred for criminal offenses, Lane County's rate decrease was very similar to that experienced statewide. Lane experienced a decrease of 19.5% (22.0 in '01 and 17.7 in '06) and the state decreased 11.7% (23.0 to 20.3).

- Lane County's 2006 rate for person crimes (3.3 per 1,000 youth) is very similar to, and slightly less than, the statewide rate (4.2).

- Lane County's juvenile referral rate for property crimes is higher than the statewide rate; however, the difference is minimal. In '06, the county's rate was 12.3 and the statewide rate was 10.8. Both have experienced a downward trend since '01. Lane went from 13.4 in '01 to 12.3 in '06 (8.2%) and the statewide rate went from 12.5 to 10.8 (13.6%).

REFERRALS

Definition - A referral is a report from law enforcement officials that contains incidents of criminal or status offenses committed by juveniles. The previous section contained data related to individual youth. Each youth can have more than one referral to the juvenile department during the year.

Summary of Referral Data – A brief overview of types of referrals, trend information and county/state comparisons are provided in this section. Detailed tables and charts on these data follow this overview.

- In '06, 1,982 individual juvenile offenders had 2,872 referrals to Youth Services. The majority of those referrals were criminal 2,010 (70%) versus non-criminal 862 (30%). Of the criminal referrals most were property crimes 1,302 (64.8%), 433 were other/behavioral crimes (21.5%) and 275 were person crimes (13.7%).

Criminal Referrals (N = 2,010)	Non-Criminal Referrals (N = 862)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 15.8% (275) person crimes</li> <li>• 60.5% (1,302) property crimes</li> <li>• 23.7% (433) Other/Behavioral crimes – disorderly conduct, harassment, public order, substance/alcohol, weapons, etc.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 54.2% (467) alcohol violations</li> <li>• 18.3% (158) possession of less than an ounce of marijuana</li> <li>• 9.9% (85) runaway</li> <li>• 6.1% (53) tobacco violations</li> <li>• 6.0% (52) curfew</li> <li>• 2.9% (25) interstate compact</li> <li>• 2.6% (22) local ordinance or “other” referrals</li> </ul>

Just as the number of youth referred to Youth Services since 2001 decreased, so did their referrals for criminal and non-criminal behavior.

- Youth with criminal offenses decreased 17.6% (2,438 to 2,010)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with person crimes decreased 32.9% (410 to 275)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with property crimes decreased 16.5% (1,559 to 1,302)
  - The number of juvenile offenders with other/behavioral crimes decreased 7.7% (469 to 433)
- Youth with non-criminal offenses decreased 33.5% (1,297 to 862)

Data for 2006 referrals as compared to the previous five-year average include:

ALLEGATIONS

Definition – Allegations include the type and number of crimes committed by juvenile offenders as reported on the referral. A single referral can have several allegations. The term is similar to juvenile “offenses” and juvenile “crimes.”

Data on allegations are not as extensive as those on youth and referrals in this report. It does include data for 2006 based on demographic information and type of crime along with a trend summary of Lane County data between 2001 and 2006.

Summary of Allegation Data – There were 4,762 allegations in 2006.

Just as the number of youth and their referrals have decreased over time, so has the number of allegations on those referrals.

DETENTION

Description – The goal of the juvenile detention facility is to protect the community by providing a safe and secure environment for delinquent juveniles within which staff can facilitate changes in criminal behavior. Detention provides the following diverse services:

- Keeping a secure physical setting and preventing juveniles from escaping
- Preventing physical violence, intimidation, extortion or threats toward staff, juveniles, parents or any others
- Preparing juveniles for placement at treatment facilities
- Providing an education component, which ensures that no juvenile is deprived of an appropriate education opportunity due solely to his/her detention status
- Providing appropriate, timely and effective intervention strategies specifically designed to: a) recognize and encourage positive lawful behavior and change, b) modify inappropriate behavior/attitudinal manifestations, and c) induce and encourage general personal growth
- Providing meaningful activities and discussion group experiences
- Promoting family communication
- Engaging in a continuous search for innovative means of providing effective short-term institutional care
